Wild Rumpus Halloween Celebration a Roaring Success

by Sandy Rodgers

Emilia Loo, dressed as Max from Where the Wild Things Are, presides over the Wild Rumpus, along with her father, Ken Loo.

The Greenbelt Recreation Arts Program invited families and children of all ages to the first in-person Halloween celebration in Roosevelt Center since the pandemic on Friday, October 28. Attendees dressed in Halloween or cosplay costumes joined in the creative transformation of Roosevelt Center into a Wild Rumpus.

This event drew inspiration from the classic children's book Where the Wild Things Are. Max, sovereign of the Wild Things, was there in her white wolf suit. When she was impressed by someone's costume artistry or spirited dance moves, she invited them to be knighted. If summoned, they were requested to kneel politely for the tapping ceremony. Maeve Wolfram and Carleigh Ezzell, 10-year-old friends who were dressed as dead cheerleaders at the Wild Rumpus, said their favorite part was "the silent performances and the performers' cool costumes."

A Wild Rumpus of all kinds of characters trick-or-treated around the Center with the Greenbelt City Council, local merchants and nonprofit organizations. Participants included the Greenbelt Library, Greenbelt Arts Center, Greenbelt Co-op Supermarket, Cedars of Lebanon, Realty 1, Greenbelt Federal Credit Union, Generous Joe's, Mini Mart, Greenbelt Sunoco, Greenbelt Auto and Truck, Maria's Beauty Salon, Solar Nails, Beijing restaurant, Choice Clinical Services, Bee Fusion Yoga and additional Granite Building tenants.

City's New Economic Development Manager Kevin Simpson Dives In

by Erica Johns

On September 12, Greenbelt Interim City Manager Tim George welcomed Kevin Simpson as the city's new economic development manager. He replaces Charise Liggins, who left in April. Simpson has worked for 15 years in municipal and county government, most recently as an economic development coordinator for Montgomery County and in Riverdale Park where, as its first director of development services, he established its Economic Development Program and enforced regulatory housing standards.

In his new position, Simpson leads the city's Economic Development Program, which liaises with businesses, offering them technical assistance for growth and linking them to county, state and federal resources, funds and partners to support Greenbelt jobs, amenities and quality of life.

"Kevin will build on the excellent work and programming started by Charise as we continue to expand our Economic Development toolbox and provide assistance to Greenbelt businesses," wrote George. "... [We will be expanding] our reach, programming, workforce development support and other assistance to Greenbelt businesses in need." George also highlighted the city's partnership with the Greenbelt Business Alliance, an initiative which he said Liggins began, but which wasn't fully established

The Library and The SPACE: A Collaboration That Works

by Melissa Sites

More books, more programs and more resources are available now at The SPACE in Beltway Plaza, through collaboration with the Greenbelt Branch of the Prince George's County Memorial Library System (PGCMLS).

Shaymar Higgs, director of The SPACE, which stands for Sharing Positive Artistic and Creative Energies, works closely with librarian Rebecca Oxley, who has helped orchestrate several important donations and collaborations at The SPACE. For example, PGCMLS board member Toni Smith donated three Chromebooks to The SPACE on behalf of her organization, In Reach, Inc., and took part in Free Comic Book Day by obtaining free comics for all 19 branches and The SPACE, provided by Third Eye Comics, the Annapolis-based comic book store now open in College Park. The Greenbelt Library has also donated several hundred children's books to The SPACE that have been "weeded" (removed from the collection due to circulation decline).

"I pick out the ones in good condition that I know will be popular," Oxley said.

In June, a new batch of books was purchased by PGCMLS for the Library Popup at The SPACE, including board books, picture books, books for teens and children, and books with BIPOC (Black, Indigenous and People of Color) protagonists and stories. Friends of Greenbelt Library

(FOGL) has been very supportive of The SPACE, providing new shelves and planning to give a generous donation to provide a diverse collection of graphic novels for youth. The SPACE partnered with FOGL on a book drive in May, and collected over 4,000 books which were quickly given away. "FOGL is looking for new members," Oxley

Bikes and Traffic Calming

We can appreciate that traffic-calming strategies are required on Ridge Road between Southway and Westway, but were disappointed to see the type of speed bumps recently installed. The two bumps have very tight radii and extend from curb to curb, making it impossible for a bicyclist to pass without getting off the bike twice. A shallower radius and/or small breaks on both ends would still slow car traffic without impeding bicyclists. We hope the current arrangement is just temporary.

Best Gift to Give For the Holidays

“If you knew what I know about the power of giving, you would not let a single meal pass without sharing it in some way.” – Buddha

Here come the holidays. Sharing special meals and gift exchanges are traditional activities during November and December. Too many people in our area wonder how they are going to feed their families. High inflation and supply shortages have exacerbated an already grave situation for thousands of our neighbors. The holiday season is especially difficult for those trying to make ends meet.

We at Greenbelt PORCH have the perfect solution, by encouraging individuals to donate to the upcoming Food Drives. PORCH collects canned, boxed and bagged non-perishables and nutritious food left out on “porches” and delivers to the St. Hugh Food Pantry. Everyone in need is welcome to get food from the Food Pantry.

“No act of kindness, no matter how small, is ever wasted.” – Aesop

Keep an eye out for future articles in this newspaper announcing where and when PORCH will be picking up. If your neighborhood isn’t included, contact PORCH at spreadruak@gmail.com and a pick-up will be arranged.

“I have found that among its other benefits, giving liberates the soul of the giver.” – Maya Angelou Participating in Greenbelt PORCH could become your New Year’s Resolution.

Clarification

Jeff Warner, candidate for the U.S. House of Representatives from the 4th District, asks to clarify that despite the declaration from his website (as of October 28, 2022) quoted in the News Review article of October 20, that “Prosperity cannot be achieved through government subsidies,” he has “witnessed the need for civil government support for citizens. Whether food subsidies, energy and fuel subsidies, school vouchers and subsidies or other well-planned programs that enable families to thrive, I recognize that a part of government serving its citizens must include support programs.” (Email to the News Review October 25, 2022)

Letters Policy

Deadline for letters is 6 p.m. Monday. Submission does not guarantee publication. Letters should be no longer than 300 words (shorter letters are more likely to be published).

Letters may be edited for clarity, grammar, civility and space constraints. The News Review may add a comment from the editor if deemed necessary. All letters must include the letter writer's name, physical address, and telephone number. Only the name will be published; the News Review will consider requests for the name to be withheld.

On Screen at Old Greenbelt Theatre

Tár

Set in the international world of Western classical music, the film centers on the fictional Lydia Tár (Cate Blanchett), widely considered one of the greatest living composer-conductors and first-ever female music director of a major German orchestra. At the height of her career, Tár is preparing both a book launch and much-anticipated live performance of Mahler’s Fifth Symphony. Over the ensuing weeks her life begins to unravel in a singularly modern way. The result is a searing examination of power, and its impact and durability in today’s society. To prepare for the role, Blanchett had to learn multiple instruments, conduct a real orchestra and even perform driving stunts around Berlin’s most famous intersection. (From writer-producer Todd Field)

Decision to Leave

(Korean with English subtitles)
From a mountain peak in South Korea, a man plummets to his death. Did he jump, or was he pushed? When detective Hae-joon arrives on the scene, he begins to suspect the dead man’s wife Seo-rae. But as he digs deeper into the investigation, he finds himself trapped in a web of deception and desire. “One of the smartest, most satisfying murder mysteries in years,” said Adam Graham of the Detroit News.

Triangle of Sadness

In Ruben Östlund’s wickedly funny Palme d’Or winner, social hierarchy is turned upside down, revealing the tawdry relationship between power and beauty. Celebrity model couple, Carl (Harris Dickinson) and Yaya (Charlbi Dean), are invited on a luxury cruise for the uber-rich, helmed by an unhinged boat captain (Woody Harrelson). What first appeared instagrammable ends catastrophically, leaving the survivors stranded on a desert island and fighting for survival. James Verniere of the Boston Herald summed up the film like this: “Ship of Fools meets Lord of the Flies.”

Imitation of Life

Lora Meredith (Lana Turner), a white single mother who dreams of being on Broadway, has a chance encounter with Annie Johnson (Juanita Moore), a Black widow. Annie becomes the caretaker of Lora’s daughter, Suzie (Sandra Dee), while Lora pursues her stage career. Both women deal with the difficulties of motherhood: Lora’s thirst for fame threatens her relationship with Suzie, while Annie’s light-skinned daughter, Sarah Jane (Susan Kohner), struggles with her African American identity.

Community Events

Walk the Proposed Trail to Goddard

Join Delegate Nicole Williams and officials from the Md. State Highway Administration for a Community Walk along the right-of-way for a proposed two-way shared use trail between Eleanor Roosevelt High School and Goddard Space Flight Center. This proposed trail would run along the north side of Greenbelt Road. It would allow students and commuters a safe walking and biking route from central Greenbelt to the Goddard entrance and the neighborhoods across the road.

The meetup is at 2 p.m., Wednesday, November 9 at the high school upper parking lot. See greenbeltnasatrail.org for more information and updates or contact Jeff Lemieux at 301-852-9795.

Legion Post #136 Hosts Concert Band

On Sunday, November 13 at 2 p.m. the Greenbelt Concert Band will perform a program of popular selections, as well as some that are less-well known, at the Greenbelt American Legion, 6900 Greenbelt Road.

Admission is free. Access the Event Hall from the rear parking lot entrance, which is disability accessible.

Golden Age Club November Schedule

Join the Golden Age Club now meeting in person on Wednesdays at 11 a.m. in the Community Center, 2nd floor meeting room.

November 9, Annual Chinese Auction. Come and bid on new/like new items donated by members.

November 16, November birthdays celebration. Bring your own lunch and maybe a dessert to share.

November 23, no meeting as all are preparing for Thanksgiving.

November 30, BINGO.

Three Greenbelters In Patuxent Exhibit

Three Greenbelt quilters, Ann Bauman, Christy Bailey and Pat Scully, members of the Southern Comforters of Bowie Quilt Guild, are among the artists whose works are currently on display at the National Wildlife Visitor Center at Patuxent Research Refuge. The quilts, some of which are for sale, celebrate wildlife in all its diversity and will be on display through November.

Also at the Visitor Center, on Saturday, November 5 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., the Friends of Patuxent will host their Wildlife Holiday Bazaar with opportunities for shopping, viewing birds of prey, such as a screech owl or an American kestrel, and other native animals as well as grabbing a snack or bake sale item.

Baldy's Bargains will offer wild and not-so-wild new and gently used treasures, including holiday ornaments and decorations; jewelry, toys and games; vintage and collectible items; and many books, including a large collection about the Civil War, mysteries, romances, thrillers, cookbooks and reference books.

Two dozen craft vendors will have herbs and herbal products, pottery, butterfly and bird houses, nature photos and coasters, quilted items, watercolor paintings, jewelry, note cards, tote and duffle bags and more.

More Community Events are located throughout the paper.

Artful Afternoon Fall Printmaking

Create autumn leaf cards with Artist-in-Residence Rachel Cross on Sunday, November 6 from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. All ages welcome; materials will be provided. The workshop will take place in the Community Center's ground floor east space; enter by the flag pole. Dress in comfortable art-making clothing. Participants are invited to collect and bring leaves that they can use to make prints. Additional leaves will be provided. This activity will occur in two shifts, 11 a.m. to noon and noon to 1 p.m. Sign up at signupgenius.com/go/fallprintmaking.

Annual GVFD Indoor Community Yard Sale

Holidays are fast approaching and the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department Indoor Community Yard Sale is too. Come on down to the firehouse (125 Crescent Road) on Saturday, November 5 to see many tables of priceless treasures. Doors are open from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Refreshments and homemade baked goods will be available for purchase. Bring family, friends and neighbors to help support the fire department. Reservations for vendors are still available. See the GVFD classified ad for contact information.

GCDC to Hold Annual Meeting November 13

The Greenbelt Community Development Corporation (GCDC) will be holding its annual meeting (the first since the pandemic) on Sunday, November 13 from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Community Center, Room 114. Kim Kash of the Greenbelt Business Alliance will give a presentation on this newly formed organization and talk about its mission. New members are welcome.

GCC Spaghetti, Music To Fund Charities

The Fabulous Fominaya Family Spaghetti Fest returns to the Greenbelt Community Church at Hillside and Crescent this coming Saturday, November 5, starting at 5 p.m. A classy-to-rollicking concert by local musicians will follow at around 7 p.m.

Everyone is welcome with free admission. Donations are welcome with all proceeds going to local charities, including the Help-by-Phone Food Pantry.

Contribute Food For Hunger Relief

Greenbelt PORCH is continuing its program to collect food in the month of November as scheduled below:

Sunday, November 13. By 11 a.m. at the 1-8 Courts Ridge, 1-8 Courts Crescent and 1-2 Courts Westway

Saturday, November 19. By 10 a.m. on for 14 and 15 Courts Laurel Hill

Sunday, November 20. By 4 p.m. for Boxwood Village and for P.A.L. (PORCH at large) members (including former Woodland Hill donors); by 4 p.m. for the 9 and 12 Courts Ridge Road and 11 and 13 Courts Ridge Road; by 5 p.m. for Lakeside Drive.

Volunteers who would like to expand Greenbelt PORCH to additional neighborhoods in Greenbelt are always welcome. The group is particularly looking for coordinators in Greenbelt EAST. Anyone with questions or who is interested in being a volunteer or starting a new neighborhood for monthly food collection with Greenbelt PORCH can email Robert Goldberg-Strassler at spreadruak@gmail.com.

Monica Pantaleoni

Monica Pantaleoni

Monica Pantaleoni died at Casey House in Rockville on July 2, 2022. She was born in Moca-naqua, Pa., where she completed high school and married Anthony Pantaleoni. She took pride in her intelligence and thoroughness and put them to use during her career with General Electric where she worked in accounting. As a resident of Old Greenbelt for 32 years, she loved the small town feel and the people.

Monica enjoyed games and spent many hours playing cards with her friends at the Community Center and frequently played Bingo at the Greenbelt Fire Station. She had great faith in God and never missed Sunday Mass at St. Hugh of Grenoble Church.

She is preceded in death by her husband of 51 years, Anthony Pantaleoni, and her daughter, Joyce Abell. She is survived by her grandson, Shaun Abell and her great-granddaughter, Mina Abell.

A funeral service will be held on Monday, November 7 at 10 a.m. at St. Hugh of Grenoble Church.

Elizabeth Anderson

Elizabeth "Beth" Anderson

Elizabeth "Beth" Anderson, 69, died in her home in Greenbelt on July 25, 2022. Beth was born in North Carolina in 1953 to Elizabeth "Betsy" Rominger and Howard Anderson. She worked for the U.S. Government for much of her career with positions in both the Department of Agriculture and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), where she used her Ph.D. in soil and plant sciences to make the world a healthier place. Beth retired from the EPA in 2016, a year noted by her and her daughter as the same year the elephants retired from the Ringling Brothers Circus.

Beth loved living in Greenbelt and, as a longtime resident, she was involved in and enjoyed classes at the Community Center as well as the Aquatic & Fitness Center. In her retirement, she increased the time spent on her many hobbies. Beth loved knitting, spinning, making baskets, reading, and writing and researching her family history. As a life-long learner, Beth regularly pursued classes and reading books to continue learning more about her interests and hobbies. She spent a lot of time in her garden and found peace among the plants and flowers. She regularly walked on the walkways through Old Greenbelt and around the Lake at Buddy Attick Park.

As a spiritual Quaker, Beth was also an active member of the nearby Adelphi Friends Meeting. Throughout the years there, she participated in youth programming, spiritual formation groups and a long-running women's group. Beth touched and enriched the lives of many individuals through the various facets of her life and will be loved, missed and remembered fondly by many.

Beth is preceded in death by her parents as well as her brother John "Jocko" Anderson. She was a loving friend and family member and is survived by her son, Robert; her daughter, Angelica; many beloved siblings, nieces, nephews, great-nieces and -nephews; as well as friends who made up her chosen family.

A memorial service will be held at Adelphi Friends Meeting on Saturday, November 12 at 2 p.m. All attendees are asked to wear masks. The windows in the meeting house will be opened for increased airflow. A short reception will follow.

The service will also be accessible virtually via Zoom at this link: us02web.zoom.us/j/87395887103?pwd=QXRLV0hpcUNQYU9pBMFBWUUhHVHFZdz09.

Stacy Stewart and Lei Zong and the City of Greenbelt for their generous funding.

We also extend our gratitude to: Greenbelt Rotary Club, Greenbelt Recreation, Franklin Park, Beltway Plaza, CHEARS, Greenbelt HONK! Situation, Forest Preserve Advisory Board, the incredible team at Public Works, all of our volunteers, and of course the enchanting and anonymous Forest Friends!

We hope that all enjoyed the festivities, and encourage you to enjoy Greenbelt's namesake woods, trails and green spaces throughout the year.

With a twinge of sadness and an overwhelming sense of relief, I hereby resign and coronate the wonderfully talented Stacy Stewart as Pumpkin Queen. All hail! She's already got some great ideas in store for next year!

Amy Knesel

Our condolences to the family and friends of Monica Pantaleoni who died on July 2. She resided in Greenbelt for 32 years and loved playing cards and bingo.

Our sympathies to the family and friends of Elizabeth "Beth" Anderson who died on July 25. After retirement from a long career in the federal government, she enjoyed many hobbies and activities in Greenbelt.

Condolences to the family and friends of Sonia Garin, who died on October 31. She was on the staff of the Greenbelt Cooperator (now the Greenbelt News Review) for several years.

Send details of your news to editor@greenbeltnewsreview.com.

Sonia Garin

Sonia Garin, long-time resident of Greenbelt, died October 31, 2022 at the age of 102. She was born in Germany in 1920. As a child she escaped the Holocaust to what later became Israel and then later emigrated to the U.S. She moved to Greenbelt in 1949 where she and her husband Robert Garin were among the founders of Mishkan Torah synagogue. She was on the staff of the Greenbelt Cooperator (now the Greenbelt News Review) from 1949 to 1953. The city flag is at half-mast in remembrance of her.

Funeral services were held November 3 at Mishkan Torah.

Sonia Garin

Family will be observing Shiva at the home of Eva Garin on Thursday, Saturday and Sunday, November 3, 5 and 6 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Maryland STEMfest

As part of the Library’s program supporting and encouraging education in the areas of Science, Technology, Engineering and Math, PGCMLS is organizing a variety of events to encourage participants to explore exciting science activities. Students will demonstrate a willingness to try new technology and processes, sharing strategies for problem-solving positively, such as building kits, robotics, circuits and basic coding. See full media release at pgcmls.info/11727.

Student Art

The student art exhibit Expressing Your Superpower Through the Arts is now on display through December 16 at the Greenbelt Library, showing works of art created by local students, grades seven through 11.

The artwork, curated by the Harbor City Maryland Chapter of The Society, Inc., reflects each student’s strong representation of self-power inspired by a powerful role model or through nature. The art pieces were judged by three creative arts subject matter experts using a standard rubric.

City Notes

At the Wild Rumpus, Arts staff, park rangers, Roosevelt Center merchants, local nonprofits and councilmembers welcomed revelers. Springhill Lake Recreation Center also hosted Halloween hijinks and the Museum displayed vintage Halloween decorations.

Horticulture/Parks planted trees on Lastner Lane, Greenhill Road, Rosewood Drive, Prince James Way and White Birch Court.

Refuse/Recycling collected 29.40 tons of refuse and 10.20 tons of recyclables. At the Sustainability/Environmental Trail Maintenance Workday, 10 volunteers removed invasives and prepared the Pumpkin Walk. Building Maintenance performed annual elevator and fire alarm inspections at city facilities.

The Community Center welcomed Greenbelt Astronomy, Greenbelt Unplugged, Concert Band, Greenbelt Assistance in Living Program, Golden Age Club, Cub Scouts and Girl Scouts. Aquatic & Fitness Center staff toured the facility with Public Works and IT, planning for a proposed keyless entry system.

Therapeutic Recreation held a Senior Citizen Advisory Committee meeting and delivered weekly senior meals. Park rangers facilitated a CHEARS poetry event in the Schrom Hills Park community room.

Economic Development, Street Parking, Space Occupy Council

by Deb Daniel

On October 24, the Greenbelt City Council approved legislation reducing the time a vehicle can park in the same location, authorized the purchase of 15 police vehicles and modified its procedures for handling applications for telecommunications transmission facilities. On a split vote, it also authorized the city manager to begin work on a proposal for a second space plan.

Economic Development

After the city’s Economic Development Manager Kevin Simpson accepted the Maryland Economic Development Week proclamation, he discussed plans to support the city’s businesses. The plans include American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) incubator support, organization development guidance, and planned events and conferences. Simpson then introduced the members of the Greenbelt Business Alliance: Michael Hartman of the New Deal Café, Kim Kash of The Granite Building in Roosevelt Center, Kap Kapistan of Beltway Plaza, Susan Walker of Greenbelt Community Development Corporation, Caitlin McGrath of the Old Greenbelt Theatre, Paul Ricketts of Greenbelt’s local IT training TrainACE, Eric Lynn of Merrick Towle Creative, Dan Gillotte of Greenbelt Co-op Supermarket, and Jessica Wilson of CCI Health Services. Wilson’s presentation emphasized the Alliance’s commitment to supporting Greenbelt’s growth, sustainability and community. For more about Greenbelt Business Alliance, visit greenbeltbusinessalliance.org.

Greenbelt’s Grant Coordinator Cary Eure was introduced. Eure comes from the South County Arts Lab where she was one of the founders of the organization and helped establish the grant program including ARPA grants.

Parking

Police Chief Richard Bowers discussed the proposed ordinance that would amend Section 11-52 of the city code to reduce the amount of time vehicles may be legally parked in one location on city streets. Currently vehicles may remain up to 30 days. With this proposed change, the number of days will be reduced to 14 days.

Councilmember Rodney Roberts questioned why no public worksession had taken place. Councilmember Judith Davis asked if police would issue temporary long-term parking permits for people taking a long vacation. Bowers assured her that temporary long-term permits are part of the plan. Davis also suggested placing notices annually in the Greenbelt News Review. Bowers also mentioned a transition period to get Greenbelt residents used to the new rules. Councilmember Kristen Weaver concurred on the need for temporary long-term permits.

Councilmember Silke Pope emphasized that long-term car repair operations and oversized truck parking are not eligible for long-term permits. Councilmember Ric Gordon suggested posts on official social media sites. Mayor Emmett Jordan recommended a tolerable period of transition. Council approved the adoption of the proposed amendment by a vote of 6 to 1 with Roberts voting nay due to a lack of a public worksession or public hearing on the topic.

Police Vehicles

Council granted the purchase of 15 Dodge Durango Police Package Vehicles (PPV) for a total of $646,020 or $43,068 per vehicle using a combination of Fiscal Year 2023 general fund and ARPA funding. To convert the Dodge Durango to a PPV costs approximately $15,000, which will come from ARPA funding.

The Police Department’s fleet of vehicles is five to seven years old (average life span is around eight years) and 10 to 12 vehicles are now defunct. The waiting period for new vehicles is currently eight to 10 months. Bowers explained that the need for a diversified fleet which the police department will have with this purchase (vehicles from two different manufacturers) is balanced against maintaining the department’s own parts inventory. Davis asked about the wait time for the four cars ordered last year and Bowers said they had waited 14 months. Bowers noted that the safety equipment for the cars will be the same as other police cars, in answer to Weaver’s question. For Jordan’s question on whether these vehicles were hybrids, Bowers said the vehicles have some hybrid-like capability (charging battery when stopped) but they are not hybrids because the police station needs charging stations before hybrid vehicles can be purchased. Council unanimously approved the purchase of the 15 Dodge Durango vehicles.

Transmission Facilities

Director of Planning and Community Development Terri Hruby presented two applications for modification to existing telecommunications transmission facilities that are pending review by the Prince George’s County Telecommunications Transmission Coordinating Committee. The authority to approve lies with the county but the city has the right to submit comments for consideration in the review.

Both applications involve work on private, not city, property and are handled by a lease to the property owner. Alex Miller from Smartlink joined the council meeting remotely to discuss the Glen Oaks facility (ATT, Mandan Road) and said that telecommunications coverage would be greatly improved for NASA, first responders and Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Similar applications of this nature will be handled differently. Davis moved that future applications be reviewed on a staff level if on private property unless staff wants council review. For city property, council would review the applications. The motion passed unanimously.

Space Plan

Interim City Manager Tim George sought approval to begin preparing a proposal for an architecture firm to assess options for constructing new space to accommodate expanding city services and staff growth. The current space analysis only addresses use of existing space and some rental facilities but does not examine options for new space to house city staff. In addition, as Motiva and other developments come on line, more space for increased staff will be required. George estimates the cost of the

Murder Trial Set for August 2023

Two suspects in the January, 2020 slaying of Greenbelt resident Billy Owens Smith will stand trial in August, 2023. According to Maryland Judiciary Search (casesearch.courts.state.md.us), Kai Angel Sudama and Ishmail Wurie Jabbie, both 22, are scheduled to be tried in Prince George’s County Circuit Court on August 7, 2023, for multiple charges related to the case, including first-degree murder, home invasion and robbery.

Their co-defendant, Grayson Iran Espinal, 23, pleaded guilty to first-degree murder, home invasion and robbery on July 22, 2022. Espinal’s sentencing hearing is scheduled for September 7, 2023, also in Prince George’s County Circuit Court.

Smith, 41, was a well-loved fixture in Greenbelt. For the last decade and a half, he coached hundreds of Greenbelt children in football and basketball. See the January 23, 2020, issue of the News Review (greenbeltnewsreview.com/issues/GNR20200123.pdf) for more about Smith and his contributions to the community.

On October 24, in honor of Alan Turing Month, kids learned about analog computational thinking through the specialized Turing Tumble kit, which encourages kids to use tactile skills and think through the problem.

Oxley takes time at The SPACE to “devote a couple hours a month hearing what’s working and what isn’t, who’s coming and what they like.” She praised the Library’s collaboration with The SPACE, pointing out that, “Shaymar is a wonderful partner for the Greenbelt Library and the system at large. He embodies the values and shares the same goals in helping out historically marginalized communities, with enrichment, engagement and opportunities for black, brown and queer communities in Greenbelt that might have difficulty getting to the main branch in Old Greenbelt.”

The Last Five Years Musical Opens at GAC this Weekend

Greenbelt Arts Center returns to the stage from November 4 to 19 with its first in-person resident production since 2020. The Last Five Years is a two-person musical by Jason Robert Brown, directed by Meg Nemeth with music directed by Rolanda Brown.

The play is an emotionally powerful and intimate musical about two New Yorkers in their 20s who fall in and out of love over the course of five years. Cathy, the woman, tells her story backwards while Jamie, the man, tells his story chronologically; the two characters only meet once, at their wedding in the middle of the show.

Said Nemeth, “The Last Five Years has been one of my favorite musicals since I was in college. I love plots that play with time, but the relationships and characters are what really speak to me. I think our audience will see a beautiful story with complex characters presented to perfection by our phenomenally talented cast. Our musicians, actors, set crew, artists and tech crew have woven an intriguing story that will leave the audiences reflecting on their own relationships.”

Nemeth chose to double-cast the show as a creative way to handle the complications of presenting live theater despite the pandemic. “Managing a double cast has been complicated but very rewarding,” said Nemeth. Both of our casts bring fresh takes to the characters of Jamie and Cathy. They all have worked tirelessly to develop complete, detailed and endearing characters. It is as if I am simultaneously directing two incredible shows! Our audiences need to come back and see both casts.”

Performances are Fridays and Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m. There will be an audience talk-back after the Sunday matinees. Tickets can be purchased online at greenbeltartscenter.org. Check the website for details about the double cast. Audience warning: contains adult language.

Greenbelt Cub Scouts Prepare to Scout for Food

by Barrett Bedford-Dillow

Greenbelt Cub Scouts gather with some of the food collected during Scouting for Food last year, when they were unable to go door-to-door due to covid.

Scouting for Food is an annual effort of the Boy Scouts of America – one that has been ongoing since 1985. Many are familiar with the appearance of Scouts on neighborhood streets and doorsteps collecting non-perishable food for local food banks in November. Although it is now a well-established national program, it is also one that has a great local impact for those in need in this community.

This year, as in others, Greenbelt Cub Scouts Pack 202 will be Scouting for Food in Greenbelt. Over the next week a sticker will be left on doors (no more plastic bags) with information on the upcoming collection.

On Saturday, November 12, Cub Scouts will visit doorsteps to take up donations. Last year 710 pounds of food were collected for local pantries. This year, there is even greater need.

Please donate only non-perishable food items. No glass or items past their expiration date. Greenbelt’s generosity is appreciated.

Barrett Bedford-Dillow is Cubmaster of Greenbelt Cub Scouts, Pack 202.

The Greenbelt Community Development Corporation’s Annual Meeting (the first since the pandemic) will be held on Sunday, November 13, 2022 from 2:00-4:00 pm in the Greenbelt Community Center, Room 214. All are welcome! Kim Kash of the Greenbelt Business Alliance will speak about their mission and vision. Please join us to hear about this exciting new organization.

Simpson said the city’s Economic Development Program strives to help existing Greenbelt businesses and employees thrive while also attracting new businesses to the city, all of which benefits consumers and employees in Greenbelt and beyond. He described economic development as contributing to “business climate, job retention and growth, the tax base and overall quality of life.”

ARPA Funds

Simpson’s short-term focuses include distributing $1.5M in economic development funds to local businesses from the city’s overall American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) Covid recovery funds and engaging with local businesses to address their needs. He said longer-term activities will include connecting businesses to local, county, state and other business assistance funding, providing guidance to address their needs and to begin documenting economic development results (including from $400,000 in city ARPA funds already provided to businesses).

Simpson expects to implement the $1.5M ARPA funding processes in early 2023. He said business engagement will be a continuous activity beyond ARPA funding to identify businesses’ challenges and solutions.

Thriving Greenbelt businesses serve residents both with products and services, and by contributing to the tax base which funds city services. Simpson said business engagements are revealing needs that business owners can find challenging amidst daily operations, such as post-pandemic restaffing, navigating landlord and government regulations while improving signage and facades for visibility to customers as well as workforce training.

Results so far include connecting businesses to workforce training services from Employ Prince George’s and helping them navigate signage regulations. He said there is a wide range of resources available, such as 1) Employ Prince George’s Rapid Re-Employment grants to restaff businesses with Prince George’s County residents; 2) the Prince George’s Housing and Community Development Department’s Restaurant-Intensive Training Program for restaurant staff; 3) Exelon’s (Peppo’s parent company) Racial Equity Capital Fund for minority-owned businesses; and 4) State of Maryland Project Restore grants to businesses opening in properties vacant for at least six months.

Simpson accepts the city’s Maryland Economic Development Week Proclamation from Mayor Emmett Jordan.

greenbeltmd.gov/government/departments/economic-development.

New Role

Simpson sees his new role as an opportunity to use his expertise to make a difference in a community he is familiar with, having lived in Greenbelt before. He described himself as a public servant, passionate about government and economic development. “I was displaced by Hurricane Katrina and that experience shaped me firsthand to understand the importance of economic resilience,” he said. “That experience is what I bring to the table.”

Jessica Wilson, Greenbelt Business Alliance member and chief strategy officer of CCI Health Services, told city councilmembers, “It’s already been great working with Kevin. He’s going to do big things for this city. I just know it, I feel it in my bones!”

While the city’s ARPA funding is temporary, the city intends to establish significant ongoing economic development funding for local businesses. Simpson is already building relationships and planning activities with small and large businesses and collaborating with organizations like the Greenbelt Business Alliance and the Greenbelt Community Development Corporation. Greenbelt Rd. Changes Plus Proposed Trail to Goddard

Thanks to Elliott Caldwell of the East Coast Greenway Alliance and Jeff Lemieux of Proteus Bicycles, the GHI Bicycle Committee’s Greenbelt Road Improvements presentation was a success for the attendees wanting to know about the status and scope of the state’s project. Anyone who was not able to attend but would like the informational handouts that outline follow-ups and contacts can send a message to John Campanile at jbelltower@yahoo.com.

And speaking of follow-ups, be aware of a community walk from Eleanor Roosevelt High School to Goddard Space Flight Center on Wednesday, November 9 at 2 p.m. State Delegate Nicole Williams and staff from the State Highway Administration will be there. Meetup is at the ERHS east parking lot. For more information, visit GreenbeltNASATrail.org.

architecture study would be $50,000 to $60,000. George pointed out that no new city buildings had been built in 25 years. Davis felt that another worksession should be held on new construction and council has many projects at this time. Weaver agreed and moved that a new study should give council more options with details and costs for a timely resolution of the staff spacing problem. Roberts argued that the city should go rent additional space for staff now. Any new building would be years away, he said. Gordon agreed that the city will need more space in the long term and that council should start the process. Pope pointed out that rental space is not cheap and council needs more facts and options. Davis said the new study must include costs. Weaver’s motion passed 4 to 3, with Davis nay (premature action), Roberts nay (no dollar costs) and Jordan nay (not enough background information).

Other Issues

plaints about the temporary speed bumps installed in the current pilot program on Ridge Road. She said that George had previously proposed speed humps rather than speed bumps.

George said that he had selected speed bumps based upon the success New Carrollton had. In addition, as humps are wider, they can cause streets to deteriorate faster, though he noted that the Public Works Department does not share this concern. Pope mentioned that school buses were having difficulty with the bumps. George noted that the pilot program will be ending soon.

Davis and Jordan asked if George could investigate the loudspeakers at Eleanor Roosevelt High School as the speakers are very loud and appear pointed in the wrong direction.

Jordan mentioned that Todd Turner has resigned from Prince George’s County Council to head the county ethics office.

Diane Oberg contributed to this story.

Elliott Caldwell and Jeff Lemieux lead the presentation and discussion on Greenbelt Road improvements on Saturday, October 29.

Twenty-four residents attend the presentation.

Homicide Investigation

Darryl McRae

The Greenbelt Police Department is investigating the murder of 20-year-old Darryl McRae.

On June 24, 2022, at approximately 1:46 p.m., officers responded to the 5800 block of Cherrywood Lane for a report of a shooting. Upon arrival, the victim was located with multiple gunshot wounds. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Anyone with information in this case is asked to call the Prince George's County Crime Solvers Anonymous tip line at 1-866-411-TIPS (8477). Tips may also be submitted online at pgrcrimesolvers.com or via the P3 Tips mobile app (search "P3 Tips" in the Apple Store or Google Play).

A cash reward of up to $2,500 is offered for the tip leading to the arrest and indictment of the suspects responsible for this crime.

Crime Trend Alert

Five newer model Hyundai Elantras were stolen over the past week. For owners of this type of vehicle, police recommend being extra vigilant with locking the vehicle and parking in well-lit areas. Adding a steering wheel club lock will also serve as a deterrent and protect the car.

Driver, Vehicle Sought In Fatal Hit and Run

Prince George's County Police Department's Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Unit is investigating the October 19 fatal pedestrian hit-and-run in Greenbelt. The victim has been identified as 22-year-old Zarek Lynch of Annapolis.

On October 19 at approximately 1:55 a.m., patrol officers were called to the 6300 block of Greenbelt Road where they discovered Lynch unresponsive in the roadway. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

The preliminary investigation revealed the involved driver struck the victim in the eastbound lanes of Greenbelt Road. The striking driver did not remain on the scene. Investigators believe the vehicle is a 2002-2006 Cadillac Escalade dark in color or black. The vehicle is suspected to have heavy front-end damage on its passenger side and missing portions of its passenger-side headlight. It appears that previous unrelated repairs were made to the front passenger portion of the vehicle and were ultimately repainted using a black spray paint.

Anyone with information on this case is asked to call the Collision Analysis and Reconstruction Unit at 301-731-4422.

Callers wishing to remain anonymous may call Crime Solvers at 1-866-411-TIPS (8477), or go online at pgrcrimesolvers.com, or use the "P3 Tips" mobile app search "P3 Tips" in the Apple Store or Google Play to download the app onto a mobile device. Refer to case number 22-0050597.

NOTICE

We will find out soon if the America we love will survive

Or if the maga state will continue to rise

Full of hate and vitriol

They crave power above all.

If the maga mob takes hold

It will spin the country out of control

With their conspiracy theories

That make people weary

They'll disregard the constitution

'Cause they're too busy with their revolution.

So the time has come to stand as one

Or watch democracy turn deaf and dumb.

So please vote (as early and often as you can).

Let's prove that hope and faith

Will win out over their hate-filled base.

ERHS Girls Varsity Soccer Team Earns Finalist Spot

by Patrick Gleason

The playoff journey for the Eleanor Roosevelt girls soccer team began with a resounding 9-0 victory over the Wise Pumas on October 28. Sophomore Jada Savage opened the scoring less than a minute into the game en route to a three-goal, two-assist performance. Classmates Gabriella Martinez and Alena Beckmann also scored, along with two goals from freshman Claudia van der Have as the Pumas offered little resistance.

With the outcome well in hand, the Raiders enjoyed a relaxed second half that allowed centerback Victoria Obisesan and goalkeeper Mia Hamilton to score their first goals of the season. With a free kick, Obisesan pinged the inside of the post and the ball ricocheted in. Then, Hamilton – relieved in goal by sophomore Nicole Lilja – capped the scoring with a well-placed finish. Both goals resulted in joyous celebrations from the usual cornerstones of an increasingly stingy Raider defense. The victory earned the Raiders a spot in the Tuesday, November 1 regional final against the Bowie Bulldogs.

The trick-or-treat route ended back at the central plaza, where guests enjoyed free spooky short films at the Old Greenbelt Theatre. After two years without a Halloween celebration in the Center, everyone was especially happy to see the children and costumes return and a good time – and perhaps too much candy – was had by all.

City of Greenbelt Arts programs are supported in part by the Maryland State Arts Council. For more program information and to sign up for a weekly arts newsletter, visit greenbeltmd.gov/arts.

This creepy guy lurking in the bushes on Hillside Road shows that it's easy to have Halloween decorations on a budget, without using store-bought decorations made of plastic that eventually end up in landfills, woodlands or waterways. All it took to make this guy was some old clothes, garden gloves and imagination. What environment-friendly outdoor decorations will creative Greenbelters come up with for Thanksgiving and Christmas?

Chalk Art, Candles, Sweets
Part of Celebration of Diwali

by Anna Bedford-Dillow

On Saturday, Vijay Parameshwaran, whose chalk art has been widely enjoyed in Greenbelt, welcomed members of the community to celebrate Diwali with him. They gathered on the sidewalk outside the apartments on Crescent Road, opposite the Library, to chalk together. Children and adults alike took up the glitter chalk and created art on the ground.

The spot was where Parameshwaran first lived when he moved to Greenbelt, at Thanksgiving 2015. He now lives in the Greenbelt Homes, Inc. housing cooperative but prefers to come back to the sidewalks outside of the apartments, close to the Center, where he can share his art with more people.

Parameshwaran has fond memories of his mother creating art with chalk when he was a child. Yet, it was only after moving from California to Greenbelt that he found himself with more time on his hands and began to make chalk art himself, something his mother was happy to encourage.

On Saturday evening, Parameshwaran also offered sweet treats like donut holes in celebration of Diwali. Diwali is a festival of lights and Parameshwaran invited the group to help him light his candles so they could not only enjoy them but participate in the creation of light. The process and the results were beautiful.
